Why Remote Techs?

The savings that new hardware can bring is sometimes overlooked when considering repairs. In this instance, it's easy to show value. However, the Managed Print model also allows for no stocking of toner cartridges since they are only delivered when they are needed. Scheduled Maintenance is done in advance with notice to the client about outages and time frames. Many issues can be repaired prior to failure and are always done by a vendor certified repair technician. It's the hands-off solution for a business that needs to focus on its responsibilities not its tech issues.
